Synthe

Your AI agent gets better on its own.

You say what good looks like. Synthe tests changes to your agent's prompt and keeps only what wins.

Using Claude Code, Cursor or Codex? Paste this:

Set up Synthe in this repo. Run npx synthe@latest guide and follow it.

No coding agent, or a free web chat? In your terminal:

$ npx synthe@latest init

Get your codes

Come up to us, we will get you the code.

Run one command

Push your repo first. The repo's owner runs it, on main.

Say what good looks like

Confirm the plain checks Synthe proposes.

See what changed

Ask your agent "what did Synthe do?" Only clear wins are kept.

JUDGING

HOW JUDGING WORKS

WHEN

11:30 PM	Keyboards down. Hand in your team slip.
11:35 PM	Judges visit every table. Demo it live.
12:15 AM	Finalists demo on stage, 3 minutes each.

WHAT WE LOOK FOR

It works. The demo runs live.

It’s useful. Someone in Utah would use it.

It’s well built. Technical depth and polish.

It’s clear. You can explain it in 3 minutes.

Not at your table with your slip by 11:35 PM? You can’t place.

TALKS

THREE TALKS WHILE YOU HACK

6:00 PM

PATHS INTO TECH
